

Users can associate multiple Particle devices to their Particle account. The access token is required to use the Cloud API provided by Particle and it is considered secret and should not be shared.

